NAME FLETCHER AS REPUBLICAN PILOT; ON THE JOB TODAY

Election Was Made Unanimous at Meeting of Committee

ACCEPTS THE POSITION

Pledges Strong Battle in the Fall Election Campaign

CHICAGO, June 7.—Henry Prather Fletcher, Pennsylvania diplomat, soldier and statesman, yesterday was elected chairman of the Republican National Committee succeeding Everett Sanders, resigned.

His election was made unanimous after the only ballot taken showed him the choice of the committee over John D. M. Hamilton, of Kansas, by a vote of 68 to 24.

In a telegram of acceptance from his home in Greencastle, Pa., Fletcher said he is ready to go to work at once and approved in full the declaration of party principles adopted by the National Committee earlier in the day.

The new leader of the Republican Party notified the committee he will be in Chicago this morning to outline a program for vigorous action to rehabilitate the party and make it a fighting force in the Nation for the approaching Congressional elections.

"I accept the chairmanship of the Republican National Committee and heartily subscribe to the statement of principles adopted by the committee," Fletcher wired the notification committee, headed by Walter S. Hallahan, of West Virginia, who came to Chicago as a potent candidate for the leadership post.

"I shall welcome the advice and association of all who are willing to work for Republican success. Please express to the committee my appreciation of the honor they have conferred on me and my realization of the responsibility of the office.

"I am ready to go to work at once."

The choice of the Pennsylvanian became a settled matter yesterday morning when Hallahan not only announced he was out of the race, but let it be known he would second the Fletcher nomination after his name had been placed before the meeting by Mrs. Worthington Scranton, National Committeewoman from the Keystone State.

Dr. John Shaw, holding the proxy of his father-in-law, William S. Vare, also seconded the nomination of Fletcher.

Party leaders hailed the selection of Fletcher as a long forward step in the direction of harmonizing the party nationally.

They agreed with the statement of Senator David A. Reed that the new chairman comes to his post without factional alliances or entanglements and predicted he would unite the Eastern and Western elements of the party and at the same time attract the whole-hearted support of what has been termed the Hoover group.

"Fletcher's election is a great victory for him personally," said Senator Reed, who has been a leading factor in shaping the course of the committee.

"He owes his selection to no faction within the party. He has been chosen solely because of his outstanding record and personal merit.

"I am convinced that with him as the leader the party will go forward to new success and to renewed usefulness to the country."

Fletcher is the first Pennsylvanian to be elected chairman of the Republican National Committee since the days of Matthew Stanley Quay, who directed the last campaign for Benjamin Harrison. The new chairman of the committee has decided, according to reports from Pennsylvania, to invoke the theories and principles which in former days led to universal success of Republican Presidential nominees.

Because of his close association with Theodore Roosevelt, it is generally believed here that Mr. Fletcher will inject into the party most of the principles that were advocated by the renowned first Roosevelt to occupy the White House.

Fletcher followed Roosevelt in the charge of San Juan Hill, the historic engagement of the Spanish-American war in Cuba. Fletcher was the man who, in advance of the charging host, seized the Spanish standard and waved it as an inspiration for the American troops to carry on. He was

NO DROUGHT TROUBLE REPORTED IN COUNTY

County Agent Greenawalt Says, However, Ground Is Becoming Hard

PEACH CROP PROMISING

DOYLESTOWN, June 7.—Bucks county, unlike some other sections of the country, according to County Agent William F. Greenawalt, has not as yet suffered because of a drought. So far this Spring the farms in this section have been well supplied with moisture as the result of the frequent rains, the last of which took place the forepart of last week. According to Mr. Greenawalt, Bucks county has had more rain than a majority of other sections in the State.

Although there has been an abundance of rain, the ground is becoming rather hard, according to Mr. Greenawalt, especially where farmers are doing their late Spring plowing for soy beans and sweet corn.

Clover in a majority of the localities throughout the county appears to be very good. This is because of the little damage done it last Winter and because of the small amount of Winter kill.

Predictions made early last Winter regarding the poor germination of the seed corn have come true and as a result many farmers throughout the county have been compelled to replant their corn. In some instances the soil was wet when the corn was planted and this proved to be another cause for the replanting.

Wheat appears to be good as does also the Winter barley.

Mr. Greenawalt stated this week that the peach crop in the county will be somewhat better than had been expected. Predictions last Winter and early in the Spring were that there would be practically no peach yield in the county because the severe weather last Winter had been hard on the trees. Mr. Greenawalt stated that there will without doubt be a yield of white peaches, but a very light yield of the yellow varieties.

Commenting on the apple crop for next Fall, Mr. Greenawalt stated that it is too early to make predictions, but he stated that it is likely it will be somewhat lighter than last Fall. His statement was based on the fact that the drop this Spring has been unusually heavy. This, he said, was caused by the very poor pollination and a scab infection on the stems. Tent caterpillars have not been unusually destructive this Spring.

The strawberry crop in the county promises to be quite heavy. A very good crop is being harvested at present and it is believed the later varieties will yield just as well. The extremely warm weather during the past few days has ripened the fruit very rapidly.

OVER TWO HUNDRED COUPLES TREK TO CLERK OF ORPHANS' COURT OFFICE IN MAY TO PROCURE LICENSES TO BE MARRIED

Business for Month Showed An Increase of 81 Couples

HUNDRED WED AT ONCE

Over 60% of the Weddings Were Civil Ceremonies

DOYLESTOWN, June 7.—Two hundred and nine couples trekked to the office of the Clerk of Orphans' Court of Bucks county in May where they were granted marriage licenses. The records show that the May business showed an increase of eighty-one couples over the same month last year.

Incidentally, over 100 couples remained in Doylestown long enough to be married, after they had received their licenses from either Clerk of Orphans' Court John Thompson, of Point Pleasant, or Deputy Clerk Jacob Shelly, of Fountainville.

During May more than 60 per cent. of the weddings in Bucks county were civil ceremonies, according to returns made to the Orphans' Court office.

The depression does not stop the steady increase in the number of marriage licenses granted in Bucks county and it is believed that a new all-time record will be reached in "the merry month of June."

The applicants came from eight states including New Jersey, New York, Delaware, Michigan, North Carolina, New Hampshire, Ohio, in addition to Pennsylvania.

Sixty-eight per cent. of the applicants were non-residents of Bucks county. There were fifty-six applicants from Trenton and sixty-nine from Philadelphia.

The marriage license docket shows that the great majority of the 418 individuals who were granted licenses in May were between twenty-one and twenty-five years of age.

The docket shows that thirty-nine men and nineteen women were married before. There were twenty-one divorces among the applicants, including eleven men and ten women.

Over 100 of the female applicants had occupations other than housework. Low salaries received by a great number of the male applicants caused little fear in the opinion of Clerk John Thompson, who is of the opinion that young folks today can get along on a small salary just as well as they did years ago, if both parties are willing to do their part.

Bristol, with fifteen applicants, and Quakertown with eleven, led the Bucks county towns.

NOT A BAD IDEA!

(By "The Stroller")

A Middleton Township farmer has been engaged in painting his barn. Passersby wondered why the paint extended to within a few feet of the top of the sides of the structure, and went no further.

The answer has been found. Yesterday the said farmer was seen prone upon his stomach on top of the barn, reaching far down the side with a yard-extension on his paint brush, finishing the top of the barn ends. He had painted as high as possible with the longest ladder he had, and after wondering how to reach the topmost part, hit upon the brush-extension idea. Not a bad one!

STRIKE THREATS PRONOUNCED

New York City, June 7.—The threat of a strike in the steel industry was more pronounced today as a result of the flat refusal of 16 leaders of the industry ever to agree to a closed shop. At a conference here with General Hugh S. Johnson, N. R. A. administrator the steel leaders, most of whom are directors of the American Iron and Steel Institute, declared emphatically they would never accord recognition to the Amalgamated Association of Iron, Steel and Tin Workers, which has threatened to call a country-wide strike on June 16th.

General Johnson and Donald Richberg, NRA counsel, flew here from Washington to confer with steel leaders regarding the creation of a labor relations board similar to the national automobile labor board recently created to settle the Detroit automotive disputes.

Johnson will hold another meeting with the steel officials today.

The leaders of the industry declined to make a statement concerning Johnson's proposal, but indicated they had neither "received nor rejected" it, and that "no decision had been reached."

GOVERNOR TELLS OFFICERS TO HALT DRUNKEN DRIVING

Says the Highways Must Be Cleared of Menace to Public

TO CRACK DOWN HARD

The drunken driver menace which has threatened motorists throughout the entire state has caught the attention of Governor Gifford Pinchot and he asserts that "drunken driving must stop." The Governor has directed the State's law enforcement officers to rid the highways of intoxicated motorists.

"Careless sober drivers have made our highways dangerous enough. But the increasing menace of drunken drivers is too much.

"There were far too many accidents caused by drunken driving during prohibition. Since repeal the situation has gone from bad to worse.

"I have ordered the highway patrol to go as far as the law will let it in keeping drunks from behind the steering wheels and I have instructed the Department of Revenue to go the whole road in revoking the licenses of drunken drivers.

"Courts and local police, I hope, will do their share by cracking down hard on drunken driving."

Drunken driving has been prevalent in this section for the past month and police and highway patrolmen, have been making many check-ups of motorists.

CHIEF McGEE WARNS OF MOTORISTS GOING TO FIRES

National Records Show Many Firemen Are Killed And Injured in This Way

GIVE WAY TO FIREMEN

National records show that more firemen are killed and injured in traffic accidents while riding to and from fires than while actually engaged in fire fighting operations. This fact was brought out by Fire Chief James L. McGee today, when he issued an appeal to drivers in the community to give fire apparatus the right-of-way when it is en route to the fire. He also urged that citizens do not clog streets or roads with their cars when they learn that fires are in progress.

"When you hear the warning signals of the fire apparatus, or see it approaching," the chief requested, "pull over to the curb or roadside until it has passed. If you hear the apparatus and when approaching an intersection, do not cross until you are sure the apparatus is not coming." The Chief pointed out that quick response of apparatus is always necessary, since lives may be in danger, or a delay in arriving may allow the fire to spread beyond control. "While returning from fires," the Chief continued, "the fire apparatus will obey all traffic rules, just as any other vehicle, but on our way out, we must have the right-of-way if we are to keep the fire losses down."

He also referred to the practice of driving out to watch fires in outlying districts, when smoke or flame is noticed in the sky. On numerous occasions, in other cities, according to Chief McGee, fire apparatus has found the road so clogged by the cars of curiosity seekers that progress was very slow. As a result, buildings were destroyed that might have been saved by prompt action. Naturally, such happenings are not desirable.

"Inside municipal limits," the Chief concluded, "we are perfectly willing for all citizens to come to watch our operations, just as long as they do not crowd so close that our movements are hindered. Also, we hope that no motorists will park their cars within two blocks of the fire, since that would probably hamper the laying of hose lines, and might even block out apparatus coming in later. As long as citizens do not interfere with our actions, and we are able to work unhindered, we are glad to have them watch their department at work."

CONVICT SURKET ON ARSON CHARGE; SENTENCE LATER

Defendant Denies All Charges of Being Implicated in Burning House

CLEARED $1200 ON FIRE

Haycock Farmer Even Denied Beating Up His Aged Farm Hand

DOYLESTOWN, June 7.—After deliberating less than an hour a jury in the Bucks County Criminal Court yesterday returned a verdict of guilty against Jacob Surket, of Haycock Township, who had been on trial during the week on a charge of arson. Counsel for the defense announced to President Judge Hiram H. Keller that he would file an appeal.

Joseph Volski, 75-year-old Polish farmer, a co-defendant in the case, pleaded guilty to the charge two weeks ago. Sentence will be pronounced on June 18. Volski worked for Surket for 30 years. The aged farm hand told how he went to the Surket dwelling carrying a bag of fodder and a can of kerosene. He said that he put the fodder on the floor and after splashing it with the oil, lighted it with a match. He declared that Surket gave him the kerosene.

The Surket house was destroyed on June 12, 1930.

Surket, fifty-nine-year-old Lettish farmer, charged with burning a house and barn, took the stand in his own behalf in a session of criminal court, here, Tuesday noon.

The Haycock township farmer, who came to Bucks county in 1920, admitted in his testimony that he bought the Spruce farm for $2800, giving a mortgage of $2500, and a note for $300.

Shortly after the sale, he took out insurance amounting to $6550 on the property for which he paid $2800. Following the fire, during which the Spruce house was destroyed by Joseph Volski, a co-defendant, Surket told the Court, he was paid $4000 for the loss of the Spruce house. For the household goods which were destroyed in the fire, Surket received an additional $204.

After paying off the mortgage and note, amounting to $2800, Surket kept the balance of $1200.

Surket, in broken English, denied that he told Volski, a hired man, "that the fire was a good thing," and "that he would not have to pay any more taxes on the Spruce house."

Further testimony revealed that Surket's barn was insured for $6000. The barn accommodated 30 cows and 400 chickens. Surket lost 150 chickens in the barn fire. Seven pigs were rescued.

Questioned at length about the part he played in allegedly telling Joe Volski to build the fire in the Spruce house, while he was attending church services, Surket testified that he did not tell Volski to burn the house. "I did not know that Joe had burned the Spruce house until the County Fire Marshal told me about five weeks ago," Surket said.

Later on he denied having beaten Volski, seventy-five-year-old farm hand, with an iron pipe and with such fury that his son, Benjamin Surket, separated them. Surket, the younger, took the brutally beaten man to the hospital, where he was found to have been suffering a broken arm, injured back and lacerations of the scalp.

The last witness on Tuesday was Mrs. Anna Surket, wife of the defendant, who told the Court she had never seen any of the possessions in the Spruce house before the fire.

Notices of cancellation of the insurance policy on the barn were received by Surket on January 24, 1933—two

THE LAW'S DELAY

Why does crime flourish in the United States?

The question has been asked many times and various answers given. We believe the factor agreed upon generally as the one chiefly responsible is the slowness of justice. Cases illustrative of this can be found in the newspaper almost daily. There is scarcely a community of any size in which they are not occurring. Here is one from Kansas City:

Nearly four years ago—in August, 1930—a young girl was found brutally slain in one of the public parks. Local police did their part well as was shown by the fact that within a few days they had arrested her slayer. He admitted the crime. In October of the same year he was brought to trial, convicted and sentenced to death. In the following February, the supreme court reversed the judgment and sent the case back for a new trial on the ground that the defendant's lawyers had not had sufficient time to prepare a defense. In due course, the second trial was held. The jury again found the accused guilty and he was sentenced to death. Another appeal was taken and more delay caused. The supreme court the other day confirmed the judgment of the lower court and fixed June 29 as the date for the hanging.

There still, however, is no assurance that it will occur then. There is available to the condemned man application for a rehearing and an appeal to the governor for leniency. Clever lawyers can utilize these two avenues for obtaining much further delay.

Nearly four years after the crime was committed and having been twice sentenced to death, the slayer still is alive and still faces the possibility of escaping the noose.

TIME TO SETTLE

A long-troublesome situation between the United States and Mexico seems on the verge of being cleared up. It involves claims of the United States against Mexico and of Mexico against this country.

Many of these claims are on behalf of individual Americans and had their origin in the series of revolutions in the southern republic. They, along with the claims of Mexicans against the United States, according to Secretary Hull, have complicated relations between the two countries for 10 years.

A convention providing for their settlement by the payment of lump sums on the part of each government, instead of treating each claim separately, has been submitted to the Senate. It was signed several weeks ago in Mexico City by Ambassador Daniels and the Mexican foreign minister. Before becoming effective it must receive Senate approval.

With Mexico and the United States enjoying the best relations that have existed between them for many years, it is gratifying that the troublesome questions dealing with claims seems about to be wiped out. Mexico appears to have emerged permanently from revolutionary disturbances that formerly were of periodic occurrence and which for several years were a strain upon its relations with this country. With the claims of the two countries against each other settled, the way would be paved for still better relations between these two nations.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE— WITHOUT CALOMEL

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rain' to Go

If you feel sour and mawkish and the world looks punk, don't swallow a lot of salts, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine.

For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas builds up your stomach. You have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul, skin often breaks out in blemishes. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

It takes those good, old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get those two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, amazing when it comes to making the bile flow freely. But don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Beware! A substitute, 25c at drug stores. © 1931 C. M. Co.

But, in spite of his mother's characteristic condition, recent John Herbert felt beneath her calm a tremendous excitement. It was as if the whole structure of the mountain woman's self was being shaken. Elements of her nature which for years had been submerged were already beginning to struggle toward the surface. Desires, dreams, hopes, buried deep under the stern necessities of her hard life, were stirring with new strength. Forces long denied and held in bondage by the dominant material demands of circumstance and environment were moving toward freedom. Emotions which she had kept shut up in her secret depths of her inner self were rising toward the light. But, while the young man sensed dimly this turmoil beneath the surface calm, he could not grasp the full significance of what was happening. College text-books and lectures had furnished him no key to such mysteries as this. His study of literature had given him no clue to these hidden things. His legal training had supplied him with no law which was applicable here.

When Ann told John Herbert that they were leaving for the city immediately, the young man asserted readily enough. But when he learned that Nance Jordan was to go with them he ventured to remonstrate.

"I reckon you're right so far as you know," his mother replied. "Nance is bound to be sort of lost-like anyhow but here in the backwoods, an' she's liable to need a heart'sinkin' after." She laughed. "I 'low I ain't goin' to feel lost to say at home, myself—not right at first. I aim to 'larn, though. But I reckon as how Nance done climbed plum' to the top of her hill of 'larnin' fore ever she war a grived-up woman. 'Tain't never goin' to be possible for her to git no higher. A woods colt sh'll allus be. Jest the same, son, thar's reasons why I've got to take her along. Ain't no tellin' what'd happen if she war to be left here without me around. I'll feel a heap easier in my mind havin' her what I can look after her."

That same day John Herbert went to Wilderness Station to make their Pullman reservations on the main line, for they would spend a night on the train. By a strange chance it was the day that Diana was leaving and the two young people had a few minutes together before the girl's train pulled out. John Herbert did not think it necessary to mention the incident to his mother.

cited by the War Department for gallantry in action.

The declaration of policy adopted by the committee was prepared by a sub-committee headed by Charles D. Hillis, of New York. Mrs. Scranton was a member of the committee. The draft, it was said, represents in large measure the views of Senator Reed and Ogden Mills, former Secretary of the Treasury.

While not attempting to usurp the function of a National Convention by setting forth a party platform, the committee, nevertheless, acting on the suggestion of Senator Reed, felt the time was ripe to present to the country the views of the Republicans on outstanding questions of the day.

Refraining from caustic criticism of the Roosevelt New Deal by name the Republican leaders called for adherence to constitutional government with its guarantees of individual initiative.

"A small group at Washington, vested with temporary authority," it was charged, "is seeking covertly to alter the framework of American institutions. They seek to expand to the utmost limit the powers of the central government. In place of individual initiative they seek to substitute complete Government control of all agricultural production, of all business activity."

Convict Surket On Arson Charge; Sentence Later

days before the barn was destroyed by fire, the defendant admitted on the stand.

Beginning the third day of the trial, Benjamin Surket, a son of the defendant, took the stand.
Surket said the barn, 2 hog-houses, chicken house, straw shed and wagon house burned. "My father, Joe and I were asleep when Hanf came up to our house, shouting 'your barn is on fire.'"

He described the barn as being in good condition, 120 feet long and about 30 feet wide.

New concrete floors had been laid and the interior of the barn had been whitewashed. A 2-story chicken house was also destroyed.

"I saw Joe drunk and he had a hay fork in his hand when he and my father fought. My father was lying on one side of the road and Joe was lying in the gutter on the other side," Surket denied seeing his father and the old Polish farm hand engage in a fist fight, and separating them before his father "almost killed him."

"I never told Trooper Felix Gowan and Fire Marshal Stackhouse that I had to separate old Joe and my father or he would have killed him."

"Was your father drinking that day?" District Attorney Eastburn asked. "No, he was gassed from sleeping in the brooder house," said young Surket.

Surket explained that old Joe advanced toward the brooder house in which his father was sleeping, with a pitchfork in his hand.

Following the brawl the son took the old hired man to a local doctor's office, where he was given first aid and later to the Quakertown Community Hospital.

Trooper Felix Gowan, who aided Fire Marshal Stackhouse in investigating the fire, testified that the younger Surket told him he saw his father standing over Joe Volski beating him up with an iron pipe.

Fire Marshal Stackhouse, who was recalled as a witness, testified the youthful Surket also told him he was afraid his father would have killed Joe if he had not separated them.

SHE LOST FAT High Blood Pressure

Here's Today's Live News For Fat Women — And Men, Too Read It — Please.

"I have been taking Kruschen Salts for nearly a year for my health, and for high blood pressure and rheumatism and it helped both. My blood pressure was as high as 290 when I started to take Kruschen. I weighed 255 and now I weigh 214 that is losing 41 lbs. in about nine months and I feel fine. Wouldn't go without Kruschen Salts in the house," Mrs. W. Beckoff, Saginaw, Mich.

Besides melting away ugly, excess fat Kruschen constantly keeps the bowels regular and free from waste that is always apt to poison the system.

Fat folks should give Kruschen a month's trial—it never disappoints—you'll feel so much better after taking one inexpensive jar which you can get at any drugstore in the world—keeps you cooler in hot weather.—(Adv.)

WASH OUT 15 MILES OF KIDNEY TUBES

Win Back Pep . . . Vigor . . . Vitality

Medical authorities agree that your kidneys contain 15 MILES of tiny tubes or filters which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy.

If you have trouble with too frequent bladder passages with scanty amount causing burning and discomfort, the 15 MILES of kidney tubes need washing out. This danger signal may be the beginning of nagging backache, leg pains, loss of pep and vitality, getting up nights, lumbar, swollen feet and ankles, rheumatic pains and dizziness.

If kidneys don't empty 3 pints every day and get rid of 4 pounds of waste matter, your body will take up these poisons causing serious trouble. It may knock you out and lay you up for many months. Don't wait. Ask your druggist for DOAN'S PILLS . . . a doctor's prescription . . . which has been used successfully by millions of kidney sufferers for over 40 years. They give quick relief and will help to wash out the 15 MILES of kidney tubes.

But don't take chances with strong drugs or so-called "kidney cures" that claim to fix you up in 15 minutes, for they may seriously injure and irritate delicate tissues. Insist on DOAN'S PILLS . . . the old reliable relief that contain no "poison" or habit-forming drugs. Be sure you get DOAN'S PILLS at your druggist. © 1934, Foster-Milburn Co. —(Adv.)

SHORT CUTS TO THE DINNER TABLE

By Vera A. Schneider

I was much amused the other day. Amused because I never knew that men took such an interest in the kitchen as did two gentlemen who happened to be sitting beside me at luncheon that day. They were men well past their prime and who evidently had not seen each other for a long time. After the usual inquiries about their respective families—how the boys were and how Mary was getting along after her operation, etc., the conversation turned decidedly kitchenward. The older of the two said: "We've done something wonderful at our house—we've bought a new refrigerator," and the other said: "We've just gotten a new one, too, and they began to talk the merits of their respective appliances. One said his wife had been making wonderful desserts in the freezing compartment of that new refrigerator and that the Strawberry ice cream made in it was unsurpassed. He went on to say he had eaten a lot of strawberry ice cream in his day, too. And I quite agreed to myself that he must have seen a change in ice cream making, for he had a number of years to his credit, just as he had, no doubt, seen changes in more vital issues.

Had propriety permitted, I would have enjoyed joining them in conversation—they were such kindly old gentlemen, thoroughly enjoying life and appreciating the conveniences that science has made possible. Suppose I give you a recipe for a delicious strawberry ice cream to be made in your mechanical refrigerator!

Strawberry Ice Cream

1 cupful crushed strawberries
1 1/2 cupfuls cream
2 eggs
3 teaspoonfuls lemon juice
1/3 cupful sugar
1/3 cupful white corn sirup
1/2 cupful milk

2 tablespoonfuls flour
1/4 teaspoonful salt
Scald the milk, then mix the sugar, salt, flour and corn sirup. Combine this mixture with the milk and cook until thick, stirring constantly. Pour this over the well beaten egg yolks and beat thoroughly, using an egg beater. Cool. Add the berry pulp to this mixture, then fold in the beaten cream. Lastly fold in the stiffly beaten egg whites and add the lemon juice. Pour mixture into freezing trays and freeze.

Very often I'm asked to give some suggestions for sandwich fillings and what adapts itself more readily to a delicious sandwich. And my answer is that there are any number of fillings that make for a delicious sandwich. For instance, minced sardines with lemon juice sprinkled over; or cottage cheese with thin slices of onions and a cream salad dressing served on brown bread; or chopped dates and orange or lemon juice—or for a more substantial man's sandwich, there's liverwurst, or dried beef or slices of broiled bacon or minced ham with a tasty salad dressing.

And now a suggestion for Sunday's dinner.

GIVE MISCELLANEOUS SHOWER TO RESIDENT OF BUCKLEY STREET

Miss Jane Dougherty is Feted At The Alpin Residence

Miss Jane Dougherty, Buckley street, was the feted guest at a miscellaneous shower, last evening, at the home of Mrs. Eugene Alpin, Buckley street.

The affair was a total surprise to Miss Dougherty, who had been called to the home of Mrs. Alpin, and found her friends assembled in her honor. An umbrella was suspended from the chandelier from which strings hung, each bearing a tag with instructions where to find the article mentioned thereon.

Most of the evening was consumed with Miss Dougherty scurrying about seeking articles that had been secreted in devious places.

The jollity ended with a repast served to Miss Dougherty, Miss Letitia McGinley, Mrs. J. Dugan, Miss Eileen McGinley, Mrs. Daniel Dugan, Mrs. Daniel Curren, Mrs. James Ragan, Mrs. Nellie Morris, Mrs. Theresa Sutton, Mrs. Emma Sutton, Mrs. Stacy Cullen, the Misses Mary McGee, Alice Rafferty, Marcella McGinley, Anna and

"DOC" MacKENZIE ENTERS BIG SPEEDWAY EVENT

George (Doc) Mackenzie, the Ed-dington speedway star who vows he'll wear a Van Dyke beard until he finishes tenth or better in the Indianapolis 500 mile race and who lost a chance to shave it off this year when he crashed over the safety wall, has entered the 100 miles of auto racing at Langhorne Speedway Saturday.

Mackenzie's entry brings the roll of Indianapolis speedway contenders entered in the Langhorne events to 10, with "Wild Bill" Cummings, the winner, Lou Moore, third, Pocon Litz, fourth, Joe Russo, fifth, Fred Frame, the 1932 winner, Babe Stapp, Al Gordon, the Pacific coast AAA champion, and Billy Winn, who went out with motor trouble while riding in seventh place, heading the list.

The bearded Ed-dington pilot qualified in eighth position for the 1934 Indianapolis classic and had dynamited his Cresco Special mount ahead of Cummings and other headliners when his smash-up forced him out early in the race. The accident occurred as he attempted to squeeze past the machine driven by Gene Austen as it went into a spin in "death curve." Mackenzie emerged from the crash without injury.

The first of the speedway invaders, Al Gordon, who comes east for the first time on the wings of an amazing string of victories in the West, arrived in Philadelphia Wednesday. Others, including Cummings, are scheduled to reach the city today, and all the contestants will be on deck when the qualifying time trials are called Saturday morning.

Gordon is being picked by the rail-birds as the driver most likely to give Cummings his first defeat since winning the Indianapolis Grand Prix. Against Kelly Petillo, Rex Mays, the late Ernie Triplett and others on the Pacific coast last winter he was almost invincible. During the season he captured 17 races in 18 starts, 14 of them in consecutive order.

The East will muster its full strength against the speedway stars, with Bob Sall, the AAA Champion, Johnny Hannon, Lloyd Vieaux, Ken Fowler, Malcolm Fox and others listed for chief defense duty. Fowler, fifth ranking Eastern AAA pilot last season, boosted eastern hopes Sunday when he took the measure of Mauri Rose, Indianapolis second money winner, at Dayton, O., his first major victory of the year.

ST. ANN'S AND HIBERNIANS BATTLE TO 2-2 DEADLOCK

BRISTOL TWILIGHT LEAGUE

EDGELY vs. DAMP WASH

By T. S. JUNE

St. Ann's A. A. and the Hibernians played good ball last night on Leedom's field as the two teams battled to a 2-2 deadlock, in a Bristol Twilight League tilt.

A streak of wildness on the part of Mike DiRisi after the Saints had the game practically sewed up until the last half of the fifth spoiled the St. Ann's chance for victory. After fanning McCafferty to start the frame, DiRisi pitched four bad ones to Snyder. Connors rolled to Manzo who allowed the ball to roll to left field. Rodgers worked DiRisi for a pass and the sacks were loaded. DiRisi bore down and struck out J. Dougherty and after getting a three and two count on W. Dougherty walked him to force in Snyder with the tying run. Roe had a chance to be the hero but he grounded out.

The deadlocking run brought a climax to a hurling duel between DiRisi and Hal Snyder. Snyder was the equal of DiRisi. He allowed but three hits and fanned four. Snyder did not have as much trouble as DiRisi for the St. Ann's pitcher was in trouble in almost every inning.

VICE WARFARE HAS QUEER TURN

Searnton, June 7—Warfare between Mayor Stanley J. Davis and city ministers over vice conditions the past few months, took a sensational turn today when the Rev. Charles A. Hallenbeck, pastor of the John Raymond Memorial Church was taken into custody in a local hotel by police on a charge of disorderly conduct.

Police allege that Rev. Hallenbeck, leader of the anti-vice crusade, was found in a room in the hotel in North Searnton with a woman. At police headquarters Hallenbeck refused to comment further than to state "I'll say plenty later." Chief of Police Harry Davis said the woman, whom he described as June Daring, 30, had made a statement in which she said she knew the Rev. Hallenbeck as "Bill Bennett" and had gone with him by automobile to Waverly, Pennsylvania, and then later returned to the hotel room.

SEARCH FOR AGED MAN

Philadelphia, June 7—Police today were conducting an intensive search for John J. Clark, 75, missing from his home since Saturday when, according to relatives, he left the house to attend church services. Relatives stated he had only 15 cents in his pocket when last seen.

ILL HEALTH CAUSES SUICIDE

Chambersburg, June 7—Despondency over poor health and unemployment was believed today to have motivated the suicide of John William Howell, 73, who was found hanging from a rafter in the garage at his home in Green Castle last night.

BOAT FIRE UNDER CONTROL

San Francisco, Cal., June 7—The passenger liner President Lincoln radioed today that the fire which broke out in No. 7 hold, endangering 150 passengers and a crew of 200, had been brought "under control" and the vessel was out of danger. The message received here by the Dollar Line officials and Coast Guard radio station, read: "Everything secure; fire under control; proceeding to Honolulu." The President Lincoln was approximately 75 miles from Honolulu when the message was sent.

ROCK GARDEN ANNUALS

Rock gardening has assumed a position of such importance that consideration of annuals to maintain color during the summer months is a question of garden efficiency. For the most part, the glory of the rock garden has departed by the end of June. The great races of plants that require rock garden treatment for their best success are spring bloomers. By the judicious use of annuals of short and for the rock garden, and one of the prettiest and best known of these is baby blue eyes or nemophila.

Care must be taken not to introduce too heavy growing annuals which might smother some of the rarer perennial subjects. Seed should be sown fairly late in the spring by merely scattering it on bare patches among the rock plants.

First in importance of these tiny plants in popular esteem are the tiny rock cress, jonopsidium acaule, a three-inch miniature with lovely lilac flowers. It comes into bloom quickly and goes out quickly. A supply of seed to scatter every now and then will be useful. California has given us a number of bright little annuals

The old-fashioned portulaca or rose moss makes a surprisingly effective plant scattered between the stones in a walk, particularly if laid in crazy paving style. It is also useful on the hottest and driest portions of the rock garden.

A little jewel is the leptosiphon giving a variety of bright coloring in size and growth in keeping with rock plants.

The violas raised from seed, especially those of the gracilis and cornuta types, will bloom late in the season from spring sown seed and may be used to produce fine color effects in the rock garden. Some of the dwarf phlox drummondii may be introduced to give a brilliant splash of color. Nierembergia gracilis is another excellent plant.

Sedums are rock garden standbys and the little annual sedum, S. coeruleum, with a wealth of blue bloom, is deserving of a choice place among the rock plants.
